My Honey love:—

Rec'd your letter this morning. No need for you to worry about my cold now — because it's all gone — "no more". Evidently staying at home did me wonders. My phlegm is all softened and even if I wanted to cough — I couldn't. I'm a good doctor — all cured, now.

you unawares. I yearn to speak to you and when you call up to-night I'll tell you all about it. I can hardly describe to you how thankful I was yesterday that you were so safely settled

How do you feel, Smokey? I'll bet you have a cold — haven't you? If you have

I came home shortly after you left with the information that he will be called from 10 to 14 days. No need to tell you how we all felt. As for Sadie — well — honestly, my heart just ached for her. Same here no matter how sure you are of a certain thing happening when the critical time comes it hits you just as hard as though it took no more kisses — and no more do I love you.

no more — never!

I do wish that I could see you before Sunday night. Good Heaven!
but thats a long time!
Hope you dont forget to
call me up to night.

I will close now
all my love and kisses
to my precious Husband
